

31ST ANNUAL ALASKA TRIBAL COURT DEVELOPMENT CONFERENCE

AUGUST 5 – 7, 2014 | WESTMARK HOTEL – 813 NOBLE STREET | FAIRBANKS, ALASKA

“EXPANDING THE ROLE OF TRIBAL COURTS IN ALASKA”

Sponsored by:
The National Judicial College
Tanana Chiefs Conference
UAF, Tribal Management Program

Overview of Conference: This year’s conference will feature new developments and current topics for Alaska Tribes and their potential impacts on tribal courts and jurisdiction. There will be presentations on the implications from the Tribal Law and Order Commission report from the author Carole Goldberg, legal updates, tribal-state agreement projects, sessions on tribal courts handling misdemeanors, juvenile delinquency, domestic violence, child support and protection, circle sentencing, and much, much more! Chief Justice Dana Fabe will join us this year. The conference is intended to provide information to tribes just beginning tribal court development, for tribes that want to enhance or make modifications to their courts, as well as for tribes pursuing on-going tribal court training.

There is no fee for this conference, but pre-registration is recommended. Please see the attached registration form. You will need to forward your registration forms to Christine Folsom-Smith at the National Tribal Judicial Center. You may contact her at 775-327-8202 or cfsmith@judges.org

This training is available for one University of Alaska credit.
Registration for credit can be taken on the first day of the Conference!!

Further information about the Conference and agenda, contact Tanana Chiefs Conference 907-452-8251 or check the TCC website at www.tananachiefs.org
